

E-DISCOVERY & RECORDS MANAGEMENT

CAPABILITIES

- Document Creation, Retention & Destruction Policies
- Disclosure Plans & Litigation Holds
- Confidential Data, Trade Secrets & Intellectual Property Management
- Compliance with Laws Imposed Upon Regulated Industries
- Computer, Email & Internet/Website Use Policies
- Development & Enforcement of Privacy Policies
- Acquisition & Disposition of Data & Information Rights
- Preservation of Electronic Information in Employee Separation Situations
- Retention of Computer Forensics Experts
- Computer Security Breach Prevention & Response

OUR APPROACH

Jaeckle Fleischmann's E-Discovery & Records Management practice group serves as litigation counsel to clients faced with identifying, producing and disclosing electronic records in complex litigation proceedings, and assists clients in their efforts to see that their data collection and document management procedures comply with laws and regulations pertaining to their business. The practice group is comprised of attorneys from multiple legal disciplines and technical backgrounds who are called upon based on a client's particular industry and unique situation.

The courts have uniformly concluded that it is subject to disclosure to one's opponent in litigation. When called upon to produce electronic data, business executives and litigants have found the process of culling archives and producing hard copies as well as electronic versions of documents an uncertain proposition. Litigants and attorneys can imperil their legal interests by failing to adequately evaluate and develop a plan for the management and disclosure of electronic information during the course of case discovery, and the courts have dealt harshly with parties who fail to comply with demands for such information.

Investing in the development and memorialization of procedures and protocols for information management quickly translates into tangible benefits, enabling the efficient retrieval of information when your business must quickly evaluate and respond to issues as they arise. At the same time, unnecessary costs associated with archiving information that does not need to be preserved may be eliminated.

This description of the Jaeckle E-Discovery & Records Management practice group has been prepared by the E-Discovery & Records Management attorneys at Jaeckle Fleischmann & Mugel, LLP and is intended for general information purposes only and should not be considered legal advice. You are urged to contact an attorney concerning any specific questions you have relating to your own situation.

6.09v2

Attorney Advertising

jaeckle.com

Your Team

MITCHELL J. BANAS

mbanas@jaeckle.com; 716.843.3803

PARTNER

Mitchell J. Banas, Jr. has extensive experience in complex tort and commercial litigation of all varieties (including breach of contract, construction, environmental, antitrust, insurance, class action, civil rights and intellectual property litigation), representing both plaintiffs and defendants (including municipal entities). He holds a BA, cum laude, from the State University of New York at Fredonia and a JD from the University at Buffalo School of Law.

DAVID G. BROCK

dbrock@jaeckle.com; 716.843.3811

PARTNER

For over 30 years, David G. Brock has been involved principally in the defense of personal injury and insurance-related litigation. He practices extensively in the areas of product liability and premises liability litigation. In the area of automobile litigation, he has defended liability and no-fault cases for both insurance carriers and self-insureds, including utility and transit companies. Mr. Brock holds a BA from Union College and a JD from the University at Buffalo School of Law.

SCOTT P. HORTON

shorton@jaeckle.com; 716.843.3949

PARTNER

Scott P. Horton concentrates his practice on a full range of labor & employment matters, with particular emphasis on the implications of social media in the workplace. He holds a BA, Phi Beta Kappa, from the University of Virginia and a JD from the University of Virginia School of Law, where he was a member of the Virginia Law Review and Virginia Journal of Sports and Entertainment Law.

PETER G. KLEIN

pklein@jaeckle.com; 716.843.3857

PARTNER

Peter G. Klein concentrates his practice in business and corporate law. His practice involves a wide variety of business transactions including acquisitions, divestitures and restructuring of businesses, financing transactions, complex contract and business enterprise matters, export regulation and health care issues. Mr. Klein holds a BA from the State University of New York at Buffalo and a JD from Albany Law School of Union University.

HOWARD S. ROSENHOCH

hrosenhoch@jaeckle.com; 716.843.3890

GENERAL COUNSEL

Howard S. Rosenhoch's practice includes defense of personal injury and property damage claims, including extensive experience in products liability and toxic tort litigation. A substantial portion of his practice is also devoted to real estate and insurance coverage litigation. He holds a BA from the State University of New York at Buffalo, an MA from Hunter College of the City University of New York and a JD from the University at Buffalo School of Law.